

Autism Spectrum Australia (Aspect) Siblings Camps

Do you have a brother or sister with autism or Aspergers?

Are you aged 10-16 years old?

Would you like to spend a few days away on a camp full of fun and adventure?

Would you like to meet new friends who understand what it is like to have a sibling with special needs?

Then apply now for an Aspect Sibling Camp!

Applications are now open for the Aspect siblings camps – three day retreats for children who have a sibling on the autism spectrum.

When: 5 - 7 October (during the school holidays; 10am drop off on Tuesday, 1pm pick up on Thursday)

Where: Naamaroo Conference Centre, Chatswood

What: There will be two separate siblings camps – one for children aged from 10-12 and one for those aged from 13-16. The days will be filled with outdoor activities, water sports, science, art and craft and other adventures. And of course lots of fun, friendship and food.

Cost: $100

Interested? Fill out the camp application form by 30 June 2010. Places are limited.

For more information and to obtain an application form, contact Beth on (02) 8868 8500 or email: bdelrosario@autismspectrum.org.au

To be eligible for selection you must return the completed application form by 30 June, along with basic medical information. (Payment will only be processed should your application be successful and the cost of camp be affordable for you).

In August a panel will meet to determine which applications have been successful. All non-successful applications will be placed on a waitlist should any families pull out of the camp. The panel's decision will be final. All applicants should have received notice by 1 September.
